A Lady Nearly Blind for 8 Years can now See to Read Fine Print, which is Due to the Skill of Dr. Aborn

PORTLAND Oregon July 1[illegible] 1872

TO THE PUBLIC—FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE afflicted I hereby state that my wife had been afflicted with granulated lids and inflamed sore eyes (caused by the measles) for the last eight years. They had become so bad that she could scarcely see to walk and the lids were inverted so that the eye lashes were turned in against the ball of the eye which would soon have caused total blindness One eye was so near totally destroyed that she could only just discern daylight, but now, thanks to the knowledge of DR ABORN and his skillful operations her lids are cured—they now raise up from the ball of the eye naturally The eye lashes do not turn in against the ball now but they assume their natural position This was effected by a neat surgical operation performed upon each eye by DR ABORN The granulations are removed, and the inflammation, cloud and spots are so completely removed from the eyes that she can see to read fine print We would have applied to the Doctor sooner than what we did, but for outsiders trying to persuade us that the Doctor was not skilled in his profession and that he would put her eyes out. But upon investigation I was convinced that he has never put any one's eyes out, but found all his patients and those who had been under his treatment unanimous in their praise of the Doctor's great success and skill in these delicate operations. I have been living in Seattle W T for the past six years, but have now removed to Kittitas Valley W T

Petitions for Pardons.

During the last few years much has been said in this State concerning the use and abuse of the pardoning power by the Executive. A wide difference of opinion has been expressed as to its proper use and limits. In cases where its exercise has seemed to run into abuse the fault alleged has as often been due to the body of citizens as to the Executive. We venture to say that in all cases where pardons have issued long petitions signed by well-known citizens have asked for such Executive action. It may have been the duty of the Executive sometimes to disregard these petitions, but it does not lie in the mouths of citizens to censure the Executive wholly, and not take into account the other circumstances.

The easy good-nature of our people and their willingness to sign papers of all sorts is proverbial; and in this fact may be found a partial explanation of the facility with which pardon-memorials are secured. Hence it happens that the names of honorable and high-minded citizens are frequently secured to applications for the pardon of habitual and hardened offenders. In certain of our States it is provided that publication shall be made of all applications for pardon. Were this rule adopted in Oregon, it is probable that more caution, and perhaps more conscience, would be exercised in such cases than are now employed. Sometimes reprehensible practices are used to obtain signatures of weight. The fact that such practices are possible should cause all who are asked to sign to seriously examine the application before giving it the sanction of their names.

The Executive, of course, is answerable for his acts in such cases to a greater extent than the citizen. The latter is shielded from public responsibility, even though he lend his name to what may consummate a public wrong. In all such cases the action of the citizen should be regulated by judgment and conscience. To say that no application for pardon should be indorsed, would be an error, but it is a greater error still to run into the opposite extreme of giving sanction and indiscriminate indorsement to requests for pardons.

An individual named Matlock, a resident of Douglas county, has written a letter to the New York Tribune, saying that Oregon was carried in June by fraud, and that Greeley will carry the vote of the State by one thousand majority in November. Mr. Matlock must have the trick of prophecy, since he has been a citizen of Oregon but a short time, and cannot possibly know from observation anything about the politics of the State. Just before the recent election in this State he appeared in the Republican Convention soliciting the nomination for Prosecuting Attorney for the Second Judicial District. He was not nominated, and went home a "Liberal Republican." He "elected" himself a delegate to the Cincinnati Convention, and sent his proxy by Jasper Johnson, telling his neighbors in Douglas county that he hoped to find a more "generous" party than the one which had meanly refused to nominate him for office.

While in the humor of sounding its own praises our evening contemporary goes even to the extent of boasting that it is "addicted to truth." This implies a reform which it is agreeable to witness. For it has not been so very long ago since our evening contemporary related that story about the pardon of convicts by Governor Grover, an accusation which was wholly unfounded, and which, being unfounded, was more outrageous than anything else ever laid to the charge of any person in Oregon. To suppose it true implied in Grover a degree of moral turpitude shocking to contemplate. A journal "addicted to truth" may combat opponents, but it does not traduce them in this way.

It is observed that in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Northern Illinois, where Scandinavian citizens are very numerous, the whole body of them are for Grant. The Nordisk Folkeblad, the national organ of that important element of our population, urges upon all Scandinavians the necessity of working for the success of the Republican ticket "with indomitable energy and unwavering fidelity," not only upon the grounds of the general integrity and ability of the administration, but also for the reason that the Republican party has proved itself the best and truest friend that the honest and industrious immigrant to the United States has found among all political organizations.

The Herald thinks to make a point for Greeley by quoting what the various Isaiah Rynders of New York have to say of him. Greeley has said often enough that Rynders was a scallawag, "thief," "liar" and "slum." Andrews, ring leader in the riots of '63, has also declared for Greeley, and so has the infamous Winans. All the "reformers" are on that side.

In the judgment of the [illegible] the magic of a "regular nomination," has changed Greeley from a bad and hateful disturber and theorist, devoted to all pernicious ideas and isms, political and social, to "an honest, sober, industrious, intelligent, patriotic, able, moral and capable man." Democracy does require fearful somersaulting of its followers.

If any one spectacle in the world is more [illegible] than every other [illegible] ... [illegible]

Trumbull and Hoar

[illegible] Lyman Trumbull is [illegible] the country, a professional office-seeker, with a [illegible] dollar fee pasted all over his back, talking about civil [illegible] supporting a candidate for the Presidency that he has pronounced unfit for [illegible] ... [illegible]

[illegible] Hoar, of Massachusetts, a [illegible] of distinction, and one of the best men in that grand old commonwealth. He was in Grant's Cabinet for [illegible] year, and in speaking of the President and his appointments, he speaks from personal observation. An effort was made to put a sore head upon Mr. Hoar, but being a man of principle and honor, he could not be used in that way. The latter made a speech at Boston a few days since, from which we take a few extracts for the purpose of contrasting them with Trumbull's utterances.

Civil service reform was impossible under a President who was disposed to use the vast patronage under his control to reward an army of relatives, and to secure his re-election.—Trumbull.

I tell you, fellow citizens, that Grant is honestly in favor of civil reform, and if you are in favor of that reform, if you are opposed to this jobbing, take good care that you don't send office jobbers to the Senate or the House of Representatives.—Hoar.

I arraign Grant for gift taking.—Trumbull.

It has been said that Gen. Grant has accepted presents. Well, fellow citizens, I don't think making presents to men in public life ought to be countenanced. The English nation in Parliament gave to the conqueror of Waterloo a grant of twenty-five hundred thousand dollars, an estate in the country, and a palace in London. It is not the custom of our people to give pecuniary rewards to public benefactors, but when two men like Grant and Sherman have rendered such services to the country as no men in this generation had done, who gave up all prospects to it, there were many of our best men in the country who thought that some testimonial, a public record of the gratitude, would be becoming the citizens of the republic. It was all done when they were not holding office, and, fellow-citizens, I never expect, above the rank of a penny a-liner contributor to a Democratic newspaper, to find a man in the country mean enough to cast it up to them.—Hoar.

I arraign Grant for nepotism.—Trumbull.

But there is one thing on which I wish expressly to say something. President Grant's appointments to office are criticized, and they say he has appointed some relations. Well, I suppose General Grant likes his friends and relations as well as any other people, and I rather guess if you should look over the Senate at Washington you would find that the members had some friends and relations too. General Grant is a friendly man; he likes his friends; he is a good husband and a good father, and, in his inexperience when he first came into office, that the good qualities of the persons he knew may have unduly impressed him in some cases I think very likely. But when you come to matters of importance, does General Grant look after friends, or consult his personal considerations? Who did he appoint as our arbitrator at Geneva? Do you find that our eminent fellow-citizen, Mr. Adams, is ever mentioned in the newspapers as a very strong friend and supporter of General Grant? Mr. Adams told me himself that he never saw General Grant until after his appointment. In selecting the counsel to represent us there he chose Judge Curtis, Mr. Caleb Cushing, and Mr. Evarts, to be sure a firm and honored member of the Republican party, but in no way connected or related with General Grant or his Administration. He had the duty of appointing more high judicial officers at once throughout the country than have ever been appointed by any President, and he has said to me that until the time came for making the appointments of new Circuit Judges, he would hear every man who had anything to say—men in public life, private citizens, the Judges of the country, the lawyers who might make their representations, and that when they had all been heard, and the proper time came, he would make the very best appointments for the places in his power from the material from which he had to select.

And, fellow-citizens, he did it, and those men are now holding their high judicial offices throughout the country: and when the questions come up who shall superintend the excise, who shall collect your revenues, or who shall be postmaster in this town or that, the question of the character of these men who are administering justice, and will be to you and your successors for the next twenty or thirty years, is considered, for it will be telling upon the safety, the property, the rights of this community. General Grant, in his important selections for office, has done all in his power to justify the opinion entertained of him by those who placed him in office.—Hoar.

I tell you, fellow citizens, there is a strength in character and in public service that no dagger can pierce; it is a panoply; and I say to you that as the people of this commonwealth knew Chief Justice Shaw, the people of this State know President Grant. [Applause.] And that is all that need be said to Mr. Sumner's speech. But there is more to be said of our candidate for re-election to the Presidency. I presume I am in part indebted for the honor of the invitation to come here to the fact that for one year and part of another I had the honor of being a participator in the counsels of his administration, and I desire to testify, and I believe what I say in Massachusetts will be accepted as fact, that during the whole period in which I was in the Cabinet councils I never heard any measure of the administration discussed or considered except with a single reference to the public interest. [Applause.] I never heard a personal suggestion in regard to his influence upon one man or another man, but the consideration simply was what would be the best for the country. And when I remember the simple, clear-headed, practical, modest man who sat at the head of the table there, and then hear him talked of, by Mr. Sumner, I think Mr. Sumner must be referring to somebody else. [Applause.]—Hoar.

Thus we have the testimony of two men, one a turncoat Republican and the other a true Republican—one a sorehead, the other a man of principle and integrity. The reader can judge between them.

German Opinion.

The two leading German papers of the United States are the New York Staats Zeitung, Democrat, and Illinois Staats Zeitung, Republican. They both oppose Greeley most [illegible]. The Staats Zeitung of New York publishes a severe article against Senator Schurz for yielding at last to Greeley, a man from whom he confesses he expects no reforms. In another article, showing how incompatible Greeley's candidature is with the ideas which produced the Cincinnati Convention, the New York German paper says:

It is difficult to account for the blindness with which some sagacious and talented men indulge in the hope that the people will overcome their disgust at this wretched state of affairs, and will ultimately be induced to consent to make themselves ridiculous. Such a supposition can be based only on the belief that the people have lost all sense of right and justice, and have become nothing but a gang of trafficking black-legs and rogues striving for nothing but transient success, without regard to the means by which it is secured. That such a result, if it could be obtained, would be the death blow of all aspirations for reform, we will show hereafter. Suffice it for to-day to utter our protest against this insult [illegible] to the American people.

It is not generally known, but the records of Congress show it to be a fact, that a short time before adjournment a vote was taken on the proposition to abolish the franking privilege, and all the Democratic Senators present, including Kelly of Oregon, voted against [illegible].

The Common Council at its meeting last evening wisely, we think, rescinded its former resolution relative to the appointment of Standing Committees. Harmony between the Common Council and the Mayor will, we trust, be the result of this action.

Dana's Opinion of Grant before he was Refused the Custom House.

The most reckless libeller and villifier of the administration is Charles A. Dana, of the New York Sun. The following, from the Sun of May 22, 1868, was Dana's opinion of Grant before the latter declined to give him the New York Custom House:

[illegible] ... [illegible] ... the political [illegible] which he [illegible] has never [illegible] ... the solid and [illegible] of the Republic. Since the close of the war he has conducted the discharge of difficult and delicate trusts has convinced reflecting minds that he is a wise and prudent counselor, not prone to extreme views, but moderate and conciliatory in his policy, and while clothed with almost autocratic powers over a conquered and prostrate section of the country, so exercising his authority that no citizen has felt the undue pressure of his hand. Throughout the turbulent and trying period he has been scrupulously observant of the laws, never seeking to evade their requirements, but always striving to fulfill their injunctions in the spirit of an urbane and considerate Magistrate.

In the midst of widespread venality and corruption, no man has ever doubted his honesty, though he has had almost unlimited control of millions of the public money. His administration as General-in-Chief of the Army, and as Secretary of War ad interim, is not only marked with eminent ability, but distinguished for retrenchment and economy. The President—no partial witness—in his message of December last to the Senate, says that "salutary reforms have been introduced by the Secretary ad interim, and great reductions of expenses have been effected under his administration of the War Department, to the saving of millions to the Treasury."

General Grant is not a politician, but a patriot. Ever since the downfall of the rebellion he has been anxious for the earliest possible restoration of the insurgent States to their former relations to the Union. He has deprecated the quarrels between the Executive and Legislative Departments of the Government, which have tended to retard this work, while on his part he has labored assiduously to bring it to a successful and harmonious close. In this he has exhibited the sterling qualities of a wise and liberal statesman. If he should be elected to the Presidency, all impartial and unprejudiced men, whether Radicals or Conservatives, and whether dwelling at the North or the South, would feel that the Union and the Constitution were safe in his hands.

The Tammany Candidate.

It is well known that two of the most prominent and influential journals which embarked in the "Liberal" Republican movement were the Cincinnati Commercial and the Springfield Republican. But these journals are alarmed at recent indications, which show a drift toward Greeley of the worst points of elements of the country. They are full of apprehension lest Greeley, if elected, would be controlled by these influences. Says the Republican of June 29th:

That some of the worst men in the country have donned white hats and are hurrahing lustily for Greeley, is a fact patent to all who have eyes and ears. This is especially true of his own State. Men whom he has been as vigorously as justly denouncing for years past, have had the magnanimity to overlook the personal grievance, forgive the harsh language, and forget their ancient grudge against the editor in their new-born enthusiasm for the candidate. Hardly anywhere has his nomination commanded more demonstrative favor or a more zealous support than among those New York politicians of both parties who whilom sat at the feet of Mr. Tweed and ran at his beck. We do not not blame Mr. Greeley's more reputable friends for being worried by this fact, but they should not undertake to cover it up under vehement denials. That is to waste breath in a peculiarly foolish and idle manner.

The Cincinnati Commercial adds its testimony, thus:

It is true, we believe, that the Democratic party machinery of New York, including Tammany, is at work for Greeley. It is true, also, within our own knowledge, that some of the worst men in this community, those who have lived and fattened upon public plunder, and are notorious schemers to empty the pockets of the many into the hands of the few, are Greeley men, and most anxious to be known as such, evidently pushing themselves, hoping to have profitable recognition. That in Cincinnati which corresponds most closely to Tammany is for Greeley. Our Boss Tweed is a Greeley man.

We see by New York papers of the 4th inst. that M. P. Berry of Oregon has been appointed Agent for the Flatheads and other confederated tribes of Indians in Montana.

POLITICAL NEWS.

"When we come to die in November," said a delegate to the Baltimore Convention, "we shall wish that we had not abandoned the path of virtue."

The partisans of Greeley have taken the advice of John Morrissey, one of Greeley's chief supporters, and are playing an immense game of brag. It is their chief card.

Speaking of Ohio, the Cincinnati [illegible] says: Day by day the lines of the parties grow clearer and more distinct. Republicans close up solid for Grant; only Democrats support Greeley.

The New York Times is confident that the State of New York will go for Grant. It says that the [illegible] elements of both parties are for him, and the result will [illegible] the political jobbers who support Greeley.

All the "old liberals" of the Republican party are making their way to the hybrid camp. Among the latest we find the famous ex-Congressman Ashley, of Ohio, whose bad character first secured his repudiation by his constituency and then by the Administration.

General Allan Rutherford, Third Auditor of the Treasury, states that the number of Greeley men in North Carolina is so insignificant that they are not worth reckoning as a political power. It appears, he says, as if the people of that State do not care anything for Greeley. They have no faith in him.

The Chicago Tribune appeals to the temperance men to cast their ballots for Greeley, because he is in favor of prohibitory liquor laws, and to the friends of lager beer and whisky cocktails, to vote for Greeley, because, if elected President, his views in regard to prohibitory liquor laws will not be carried into the administration of the Government. The Tribune is not at all embarrassed by the inconsistency of these positions.

The Norion neatly answers those Democrats who plead that Mr. Greeley's assaults on Democracy should not be remembered any more than what St. Paul said before his conversion. It says his conversion would resemble St. Paul's "if the voice which Paul heard on his way to Damascus had cried, 'Saul, Saul, what will you take to become a Christian?' and Paul had replied that he would become a lax, lukewarm Christian for a partnership for one term, and leave the question of persecution to the people in the meantime."

CITY.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.—Novelists and writers of fiction create an immense amount of romance which has no foundation whatever in the real issues of life. Imaginary castles are built and fictitious scenes drawn, in which the real and shadowy are inseparably blended. Perhaps more exists in real life more romance than most people imagine. We have just heard of a case that sounds much like a tale of fiction "often told," but which is still true.

About fifteen years ago, a Mr. C—— was married to an estimable young lady in the city of New York. After living peaceably and happily together for about two years, the wife and mother died. An infant daughter was left to the care and support of the bereaved husband and father. About one year after the death of his wife, Mr. C——, making temporary provisions for his little daughter, and leaving her under the maternal protection of his mother in law, started for the West. Arriving at Omaha, then containing but a few huts, he soon caught the gold fever and started for California. In course of time the plains were crossed, and he planted his feet in San Francisco. When he left his home he was in impecunious circumstances, but soon after his arrival in the Golden State, he managed to redeem himself measurably from poverty. As soon as he had accumulated a little surplus money, he sent two hundred dollars back to his daughter and her grandmother. Some time elapsed and at length the package containing the money was returned to him. He wrote repeatedly, but in a like manner his letters were all returned, and no tidings came to relieve the oppressive suspense. He at length concluded that they must be dead, and gave up farther attempts to trace out their whereabouts.

Years passed on and he grew rich and prosperous. Still nothing was heard of the loved and supposed lost ones far away. He visited all parts of the coast, Nevada, Washington, Idaho, and about two years ago took up a temporary residence in this city. He had not married again, and was a ripe old widower, gray, and forty. All hopes of ever discovering his daughter had been abandoned, and he had about concluded to return to California, and thence proceed east to revisit the scenes of his childhood and early matrimonial pleasures, when an unexpected event transpired which dispelled his plans and schemes for the future and changed entirely his purposes. Notwithstanding many years had elapsed since he beheld the face of his child, time, distance, or the absorbing cares of life had not effaced the image from his mind. Many were the nameless longings he sent back, that he might once more see her if she still lived and could be found. In his rovings he had met many persons who came from New York. These persons he never failed to interrogate, but uniformly received the same disheartening reply; no such persons as he described had ever been in the circle of their acquaintance.

A young man about two months ago came from Providence, Rhode Island, and took up his residence at his uncle's residence in East Portland. Mr. C—— was stopping with the same gentleman, and so the acquaintanceship of the nephew and the widower soon ripened into friendship. Mr. C. a few days ago, having concluded his arrangements to return overland to California, preparatory to his trip East, called at the house of Mr. T—— in East Portland, to bid adieu to his young friend, expecting to start the following day. In the course of the conversation Mr. C—— asked if he had ever known in his travels a Miss C—— and Mrs. ——. The young man replied in the affirmative. This was followed up by a great many other questions, which resulted in the old gentleman discovering his long lost but still unforgotten child. Before the young man could divine the object of the questions his old friend burst into tears, and exclaimed, starting to his feet: "Why, my dear sir, that young lady is my daughter, whom I have not seen for fifteen years. She is my daughter, certain, and every dollar I am worth to-day belongs to her." The astonishment of the young man was only equaled by his pleasure on making the discovery that his old friend was the father of the young lady to whom he was betrothed—for such is really the case, so we have been informed. After matters had gone thus far the young gentleman confessed the relations which existed between them, and that the girl had accompanied him to the depot at Providence when he took his departure for Oregon. It is needless to add that the newly found father has sent back the means to have his daughter, now aged about sixteen, and her grandmother, start at once for San Francisco, where he will meet them on their arrival.

The cause of all the suspense, and the impression that each were dead, was because the daughter and grand mother removed from New York to Providence, Rhode Island, about one year after the departure of Mr. C—— to the West. By this means their Postoffice address was lost, and his whereabouts to them became a matter of mystery, which all efforts to solve by letter were unavailing. As the years rolled on, and nothing was exchanged, the daughter concluded that her father was dead, and he had long since become convinced of the same about her. Had it not been for the slight change in the conversation in East Portland between the two stranger friends, the mystery would in all probability have never been solved, which has resulted in so much happiness between the long separated father and child. "All is well that ends well;" and the above piece of real romance only illustrates the truth of the old trite saying, that "Truth is stranger than fiction." Verily we live in a strange world, and many strange events are working to the surface.

The above facts have been given us by a gentleman who is personally acquainted with the actual parties. We have all the names in our possession, and could give them if necessary; but for certain reasons they are suppressed. The reader can rely on the truthfulness of this seeming romance of fancy.

HORSE FRIGHTENED.—As the John L. Stephens was leaving Astoria the military band on board commenced to play some lively airs. The music frightened a fine horse which was confined in the horse-box used for the occasion. The animal made a spring forward and managed to get his fore feet over the front, and eventually sprang clear out of the box on to the deck. Capt. Connor being on the spot immediately ordered the band to stop playing, and, with the assistance of the third mate and the carpenter, secured the animal in such a manner that a repetition of the accident was impossible.

WOUNDED.—Charles, a son of Jack Harris, while handling a small derringer on Thursday afternoon, met with a severe accident. The weapon was a breech loader, and he was "fooling" with the cartridge, when the ball was discharged, passing through the fleshy portion of his hand across the palm. In its passage the ball did not touch any bones, but inflicted an ugly and painful flesh wound. It fortunately happened to be his left hand which was grasping the muzzle of the pistol at the time of the accident.

WHERE ARE THEY?—We see by a recent dispatch from this city to the San Francisco Call that "Greeley Clubs are being formed in this city." Where are they? Upon diligent inquiry we have been unable to find their headquarters or obtain any report of their proceedings. In short, the dispatch is made of whole cloth, as there has been no step taken in that direction anywhere in Oregon yet. The "unterrified" silently await the coming of their great leader, J. W. Jasper J.

ERROR OF THE TYPES.—In an item yesterday published, the word mons [illegible] was written correctly but our printer set it up wrong, and the proof being hastily read the error escaped detection. We forgive the printer, but would like to know who told the "Smart Aleck" of the Bulletin that we had spelled the word wrong.

BORN AT SEA.—The wife of a sailor on board the John L. Stephens on her last trip to this port from San Francisco, was safely delivered of a fine boy. A surgeon was on board at the time and promptly attended the case. The mother and child were doing well on arrival at the wharf.

ANOTHER COMPANY.—Another company belonging to the Twenty-first Regiment arrived on the last steamer from San Francisco. They were taken over to the garrison at Vancouver last evening, accompanied by the band. The company numbers about 75 men.

FREE LECTURE.—A free lecture will be delivered at Nonpareil Hall, corner of Madison and First streets, on Friday evening next, by C. A. Lohmueller. Seats will be given at the door. No collection will be taken up. Lecture commences at 8 o'clock.

LUNCH BASKET.—Paul Richter, opposite the Postoffice, has received the Eastern lunch basket, which is just the thing for picnics. He has a variety of willow ware.

COMMON COUNCIL.

REGULAR MEETING, JULY 17, 1872.

The Common Council met last evening at the Chamber at 8 o'clock, Mayor Wasserman presiding.

Present—Councilmen Besser, Barton, Congle, Hallock, Moreland and Russell.

Absent—Councilmen Caywood and Story.

Minutes of the last meeting read and approved.

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, ETC.

The petition of Saloma Ganz for refunding taxes illegally assessed, was read and referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The Committee on Ways and Means reported that the City Treasurer's semi-annual report is correct. Report adopted.

OFFICERS' REPORTS.

The Auditor's report, giving the amount of taxes collected and delinquent, and recommending an alias warrant issue. Adopted.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE CITY.

Jurors and witnesses in city cases, $37; Charles Lawrence, two bills guarding city prisoners and killing dogs, $60; S. H. Lappeus, board of city prisoners, $276; C. H. Myers, 100 police staffs, $6; H. L. Pittock, $51 92; Himes & Bachelder, $30; Police Commissioners Hallock, $18, Burke, $8; Semple, $15.

ORDINANCES.

An ordinance providing for the time and manner of improving North Second street between E and G streets, substitute read and adopted, read a second and third time and passed.

An ordinance to provide for lighting the clock on the tower of the Odd Fellow's building, read a third time and passed.

RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions were adopted:

That the Auditor give notice that the Common Council propose to improve South Second and South Third streets, between Sherman and Sheridan streets.

That the City Surveyor be instructed to survey an extension of B street to its intersection with the Barnes' road and report to the Council.

That the Auditor be authorized to draw a warrant in favor of Thos. Huntington for $650, part of contract price for building three cisterns.

That the Committee on Judiciary be requested to report what action they had taken in the case of O. P. Mason et al. vs The City of Portland.

A resolution that the resolution passed by the Common Council July 3, 1872, by which the Council proceeded to elect the members of the various Standing Committees for the ensuing year be rescinded, and that the Mayor be requested to appoint such committees, elicited considerable discussion and was finally adopted 4 yeas and 3 nays.

The Auditor was instructed to give the usual notice of the proposed improvement of Stark street from the west side of Front to the east line of Second street.

On motion the Council adjourned.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

WEDNESDAY, July 17, 1872.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, J.

United States vs Alexander McDonald; giving liquor to an Indian; J. G. Chapman appointed to defend, and defendant to be arraigned on Friday morning.

On motion of the District Attorney, ordered that the indictments in the following cases be resubmitted to the grand jury for signature by the Foreman, to-wit:

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, J.

Samuel Levy vs Moses Seller, administrator, et al.; default entered against Moses Seller and Helena Levy; referred to J. G. Chapman.

Annie Donovan vs M. O. Lownsdale et al.; decree to quiet title for plaintiff.

QUICK TIME.—The Honolulu dispatches of July 31, state that considerable interest was felt at that place on the departure the preceding week of the D. C. Murray and Jane A. Falkinburg, the former for San Francisco and the latter for Portland. The two vessels sailed from Honolulu about the 26th of last month, and left that port within a few minutes of each other. Both were in excellent sailing trim and favored with fresh trades as they left the harbor. When last seen, the Murray was considerably to the windward, which would favor her in the passage. The Jane has certainly distanced her consort, for she is now anchored at Oak Point waiting for a tug, and the Murray has not yet reached her destination, according to the dispatches from San Francisco.

MILITARY BAND.—The military band belonging to the Twenty-first Regiment, U. S. A., arrived here on the John L. Stephens yesterday morning. This band now numbers seventeen men, and is under the leadership of Mr. F. B. Huber, a very accomplished musician. An accession of six more musicians from the East is soon expected, which will increase the number to 23. The San Francisco papers speak in very complimentary terms of this band, which is doubtless one of the best on the coast. It will be stationed at Vancouver. Our citizens will gladly welcome the arrival of this band, as all will recollect the many hours of pleasure afforded by the sweet strains of the Twenty-third Infantry band, which was stationed here before.

NUMEROUSLY COMPLAINED OF.—Between a dozen and twenty complaints were filed in the Police Court yesterday against various parties for carrying on diverse and sundry games of amusement in this city without a license from the proper authorities being first obtained therefor. The parties were arrested and gave bonds for their appearance before the Police Judge to answer to charges of running billiard tables, pigeon hole tables and so forth, without a license.

TROUBLE ON BOARD.—A gentleman who was a passenger on the Stephens, informs us that while on the upward voyage, a drunken row occurred among some of the soldiers on board. One fellow struck a Sergeant Major across the mouth with his open hand. He was taken, handcuffed and gagged until he "subsided," and for the remainder of the voyage was closely guarded. On the arrival at the post, he will be subjected to a court martial.

NEW COVER.—The covering of the cistern at the intersection of Alder and First streets is being repaired. Attention to the condition of the same was called some days since in this paper. The Street Commissioner and Chief Engineer have acted with creditable alacrity in the matter. The old plank and decayed sleepers are being removed and new ones substituted.

PURCHASED.—We learn that the "Old Summer" or "Latta House" has recently been purchased by Mr. Holladay for the sum of $2,000. The house will be kept this season by Mrs. Cloutre, the present proprietress, but next year the purchaser proposes to erect a large and commodious building for the accommodation of transient resorters at the beach.

A fire seems to be raging in the woods beyond Holladay's Addition in East Portland. Immense volumes of smoke were seen rising yesterday in that direction.

F. Erdagh, charged with concealing stolen goods, waved an examination before Judge Denny yesterday and gave bonds for his appearance before the Circuit Court.

The telegraphic wire which is stretched across the river below the lower ferry, was taken down yesterday temporarily to admit of the passage of the Garibaldi up the river.

Freshly imported talent now illuminates the local department of the down street cotemporary. The earnest prayers of its readers have been granted—not too soon, however.

Acting Assistant Surgeon T. G. H. Bradford, U. S. A., has been ordered from Washington, D. C., to report to Medical Director Geo. A. Cooper, U. S. A., Department of the Columbia, at Portland, Oregon. Accompanied by his family he arrived on the John L. Stephens.

We hear of a party of young nimrods who are preparing to flee to the mountains, where they propose to rejuvinate, rest, sleep, smoke and feast. They propose to disport themselves in the crystal mountain streams, angle for the delicious trout, stalk for the mild and beautiful bruin and the ferocious gazile, and all that sort of thing you know.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE ENTERTAINMENT.—On the occasion of the Musical and Literary entertainment by the ladies of the Unitarian Church, the Chapel was densely crowded. A more fashionable or intelligent audience is not often seen than was present. The performance for the evening included a variety of pleasing and instructive exercises. The principal features were music—instrumental and vocal—recitations, reading, etc. As an entertainment it was a social and intellectual treat, reflecting credit on participants, and appreciated by the delighted audience. An extended notice of the entertainment was unintentionally overlooked in our issue of yesterday morning.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

The Orange Society.

The following from the New York [illegible] may be of interest at the present time:

The Orange Society of the United States, according to the statements of the Grand Master, John J. Bond, has been in existence for many years. The Supreme Lodge, as it is called, is in England, and under a charter granted by it, the Society has been established [illegible] years. It was thought, however, that the American branch should be an independent organization, to avoid [illegible] patriotism. The following is the declaration of principles of the Society:

The Loyal Orange Institution of the United States of America is formed by persons desirous of supporting to the utmost of their power the principles and practice of the Protestant religion, to maintain the laws and constitution of this country, afford assistance to the distressed members of the Order, and otherwise to promote such laudable and benevolent purposes as may tend to the due ordering of religion and Christian charity, and the supremacy of the law, order and constitutional freedom.

Its members associate in honor of William Henry, Prince of Orange, whose name they bear and whose memory they revere, tending, as he did under Divine Providence, to the overthrow of the most oppressive bigotry and the restoration of civil and religious freedom, and hope in the adoption of his name to emulate his virtues by maintaining religion without persecution or trenching upon the rights of any. They also assemble in the name and revere the memory of George Washington, believing him to be blessed by Almighty God, in raising as a last tribute to his memory, the universal freedom, both civil and religious, of this country to the end of time. Likewise do they revere the name of Abraham Lincoln, as one whom the people of this country should forever remember as the great liberator of a section of the human race.

The Orange Institution lays no claim to exclusive Protestantism or exclusive loyalty, but it admits no man or body of men within its pale whose creed is not Protestant, and whose principles are not loyal. Disclaiming an intolerant spirit, the Institution demands, as an indispensable qualification, without which the greatest and wealthiest man may seek admission in vain:

"That the candidate shall be believed to be incapable of persecuting or injuring any person on account of his religious opinions"—the duty of every Orangeman being to aid and defend all loyal citizens of every religious persuasion in the enjoyment of their constitutional rights.

The whole Institution is one neighborhood, within which every Orangeman is at home in the furthest part of the world, and such is the mechanism of the Institution that while its operations are thus extended, its every movement is alike felt and answered in every part.

In short, the Orange Institution, like a glorious morning luminary, is intended to pour its refulgence not on one part only of the circumference of the globe, but simultaneously on every portion, equally enlightening the whole periphery.

As the Prince of Orange was invited to England by a coalition of parties, united by a common sense of their sacred duty to preserve their civil and religious liberty, and as the Pilgrim Fathers were united in their earnest and zealous principles of freedom when approaching the shores of this free land to maintain herein those sacred rights forever, and as the immortal memories of Washington and Lincoln are sacredly held by all true patriots as being worthy the veneration of good men in and every free land; so likewise doth the Loyal Orange Institution behoove all zealous and earnest Protestants, to rally round one common standard of freedom, composed of colors which have hitherto been borne through fields of fire and blood, on to the goal of victory, on behalf of civil and religious freedom. The Orange and Purple, combined with the American Stars and Stripes, doth enjoin the suitable motto—In God we Trust—upon all loyal and worthy Protestants.

By order and consent of the Supreme Grand Orange Lodge of the United States.

JOHN J. BOND,
Grand Master.

The Toledo Blade says: "It is a good thing to take care of one's relations, if it be done in a modest, quiet way. Grant appointed his father postmaster at Covington, Ky., at the insignificant salary of $800. John T. Hoffman (who is to be made United States Senator in place of Conkling, in case the Cincinnati coalition is successful) made his father-in-law, Starkweather, commissioner of the Church street widening at New York, whereby he made $650,000 in four years."

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, July 17, 1872.

Gold in New York to-day, 114½.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 87½c buying; 88½ selling.

The steamer Ajax arrived at San Francisco last evening from this port.

The brig Perpetua will complete discharging cargo to-morrow.

The steamship John L. Stephens arrived at port this morning from San Francisco. She brought a large passenger list, and 500 tons assorted cargo.

The steamer California reached here this morning from Bellingham Bay, having on board 262 tons of stone for the Custom House.

No vessels were seen off the bar as either the California or Stephens passed over.

The Garibaldi is discharging her cargo at the foot of Main street.

The bark Jane A. Falkinburg, with cargo of sugar from Honolulu, is in the Columbia river, and is expected to reach the dock at Portland to-morrow.

From the latest San Francisco journals we compile such commercial information as is worthy of note. Coffee, market firm; standard price for Costa Rica and Guatemala, 19½c; O. G. Java, held firm at 23c; Sugars, market active and strong, but no further changes in prices; Nails, schedule rates adhered to firmly, the market range being $6 25@9; Bags, free arrivals are having a depressing effect on the market, Standard Burlaps quotable at 17@17½c for round lots; Metals, less animation in market and prices seem to favor the buyer; Lumber, Oregon scarce and wanted, cargo prices are $17@18 for rough, and $25@27 for dressed. Tobacco, market unsettled, owing to rulings under recent revenue laws. Large invoices are on the way overland, on which the Department claims tax under the old law. A test case will be made, the difference being twelve cents a pound. Bacon shows considerable upward tendency. Receipts of Eastern Sugar Cured Hams are diminishing.

The Wheat Crop and Prices.

Harvest is now beginning in Wallamet Valley, and next week will be fairly under way. Reports are generally favorable for a good yield. Winter Wheat is especially good. Spring Wheat and Oats promise a fair harvest. Our surplus Wheat for the present year may be estimated at from two million to two and a half million bushels. It may go even beyond the latter figure. The prospect for prices cannot, however, be deemed favorable. Latest dispatches from San Francisco quote shipping lots at about $1 55 per cental. This is equal to 93c per bushel, and includes sacks, which are worth 9c. California has a very large surplus, amounting perhaps to near twenty million bushels. Tonnage to move this immense crop to a foreign market is in demand, and the supply is short. All vessels offering are taken readily at £4 per ton, which is much above prices paid in former years. Some charters are reported at even higher rates. Part of the surplus is to be sent to Liverpool via Panama at the extreme rate of £4 10s.

It is probable that during the coming fall and winter we shall have twenty vessels in the Wallamet river to clear with foreign cargoes. These will be able to carry away fifteen to eighteen thousand tons, which will be but a small part of our surplus. Some shipments will be made to British Columbia, but these will be inconsiderable. The balance of our surplus must find an outlet through San Francisco, or be held over till another season.

When shipping Wheat at San Francisco is $1 55 per cental, in sacks, it is to be supposed that Wheat cannot be [illegible] more than [illegible] a bushel sacked and delivered for shipment. Our sacks [illegible] a bushel, and we have [illegible] deduct [illegible] railway transportation from the interior, for commissions and other charges, which will be in [illegible] rates, and there is [illegible] a bushel left to the farmer for his Wheat, which is about as good a showing as we are able to make from present appearances and data. No doubt many of our farmers will hold their Wheat [illegible] they are [illegible] ally as sellers, unless prices are good.

This is not a flattering exhibit, but it is best to look at the situation as it presents itself. [illegible] small and [illegible] expectations [illegible] disappointment.

General Merchandise.

BAGS AND BAGGING—Quotable for standard size, 17@17½c, as per quality and quantity. Flour Sacks, 11½c; Burlap, per yard, 14a15c.

BUILDING MATERIAL—Local demand dull at present, ranging for rough lumber, $12@14; dressed, $22@30; flooring, $24@28; lath, $3 per M; shingles, $2 50. Eastern hardwood, [illegible] per ft.

BROOMS—Common, $3@[illegible]; extra, $[illegible].

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

ADOPTED BY THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PARTY, IN CONVENTION AT PHILADELPHIA, JUNE 6, 1872.

The Republican Party of the United States assembled in National Convention in the city of Philadelphia, on the 5th and 6th days of June, 1872, again declares its faith, appeals to its history, and announces its position upon the questions before the country.

1. During the eleven years of its supremacy it has accepted with grand courage the solemn duties of the time; has suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated four millions of slaves, decreed the equal citizenship of all and established universal suffrage. Exhibiting unparalleled magnanimity, it criminally punished no man for political offenses and has warmly welcomed all who proved their loyalty by obeying the laws and dealing justly with their neighbors. It initiated a new policy toward the Indians; the Pacific Railroad and similar vast enterprises have been generously aided and successfully conducted to completion, the public lands have been freely given to actual settlers, immigration has been protected and encouraged, and a full acknowledgment of the rights of naturalized citizens secured from European powers. In the form of National currency, it has provided for the National credit, and sustained it under the most extraordinary burdens. It has negotiated new bonds at lower rates of interest. The revenues have been carefully collected and honestly applied. Despite the annual large reductions from the rate of taxation, the public debt has been reduced during U. S. Grant's Presidency at the rate of $100,000,000 per year. A great financial crisis has been averted, and peace and plenty prevail throughout the land. Menacing foreign difficulties have been peacefully and honorably compromised, and the honor and power of the Nation kept in a high position throughout the world. This glorious record of the past is the party's best pledge for the future, and we believe that the people will not entrust the government to any party or combination of men, composed of those who chiefly have resisted every step in this beneficial progress.

2. Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil, political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union by efficient and appropriate State and Federal legislation. Neither law nor its administration should admit of any discrimination in respect to citizens by reason of race, creed, color, or previous condition of servitude.

3. The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right, not merely tolerated because they are law, and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation, the enforcement of which can be safely trusted only to the party that secured the amendments.

4. The National Government seeks to maintain an honorable peace with all nations, protecting its citizens everywhere, and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty.

5. Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the Government are considered rewards for mere party zeal, is fatally demoralizing, and we therefore favor a reform of the system, by a law which shall abolish the evils of patronage and make honesty, efficiency and fidelity the essential qualifications for public position, without practically creating a lifetenure of office.

6. We are opposed to further grants of public lands to corporations and monopolies, and demand that the National domain be set apart for free settlement by the people.

7. The annual revenue, after paying current debts, should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal of the public debt, and except so much as may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors, be raised by duties on importations, which should be adjusted to aid in securing remunerative wages to laborers, and to promote the industries and growth and prosperity of the whole country.

8. We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union. Their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation, and the widows and orphans of those who died for the country are entitled to the care of a generous and grateful people. We favor such additional legislation as will extend the bounty of the Government to all our soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged, and who in the time of duty became disabled, without regard to length of service or the cause of such discharge.

9. The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers concerning allegiance, once a subject always a subject, having at last, through the efforts of the Republican party, been abandoned, and the American idea of the right of an individual to transfer his allegiance having been accepted by European nations, it is the duty of our Government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former Government, and we urge a continued and careful encouragement and protection to voluntary emigration.

10. The franking privilege ought to be abolished and, a way proposed for reductions in the rates of postage.

11. Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor, and the Republican party recognize the duty of shaping legislation so as to secure a full protection and ample field for capital, and for labor which creates capital, the largest opportunities and a just share of the mutual profits of these two great servants of civilization.

12. We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an important duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions and for the protection of the ballot, and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the Nation.

13. We denounce the repudiation of public debts, in any form or disguise, as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of that debt, and of the rates of interest upon the balance, and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption to specie payment.

14. The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom, their application for admission to further usefulness is received with satisfaction, and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

15. We heartily approve of the action of Congress in granting amnesty to those engaged in the rebellion, and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

16. The Republican party propose to respect all rights reserved by the people to themselves as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the State and Territorial governments. It disapproves of resorting to unconstitutional laws for the purpose of removing evils by the interference with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or National Government.

17. It is the duty of the General Government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship-building.

18. We believe that the modest patriotism, the earnest purpose, sound judgment, practical wisdom, incorruptible integrity and illustrious services of U. S. Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people, and with him at our head we start to-day on a new march to victory.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES!
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy too work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian. jy6d&w
